

Guidelines for Contributors to Lacunae

- Lacunae considers original material that is not under consideration with any other publication at the time of submission.
- Translated articles must not have been published previously in English.
- Articles for consideration should be sent in APA format to editorlacunae@gmail.com.
- Articles for consideration should include the author's name, biographical and contact details (email and correspondence addresses).
- Contributors are responsible for ensuring the accuracy of their material, including quotes and citations, for punctuation and formatting, and for obtaining permission for reproducing copyrighted images and illustrations.
- Neither Lacunae nor APPI accepts liability for clinical material published in Lacunae and, while the Editorial Board will assess it and raise relevant concerns with the contributor as part of the review process, it is the contributor's responsibility to inform themselves about ethical guidelines and to follow best practice.
- Lacunae operates a blind peer review process. Contributors' names and details are known to the editor only until articles are accepted for publication.
- Contributors receive feedback from the review process. In addition, contributors understand that certain changes or amendments may be required as part of the review process and are a condition for publication.
- When their submission has been accepted, and after the review and editing processes, each contributor will receive a final pdf proof of their article and is responsible for reviewing it and confirming its accuracy to the Editor.
- On acceptance, contributors agree that their articles may not be published elsewhere without the Editorial Board's permission in advance.
- It is a condition of acceptance that Lacunae holds joint copyright with the contributor for 18 months after hard copy publication.
- Lacunae welcomes the reproduction of articles in other mediums, following consultation with the Editor and provided that Lacunae is acknowledged and cited in the medium.
- The contributor accepts that the Editorial Board may use its discretion as necessary in scheduling publication of their article in the journal.
- Lacunae may request permission to make article/s available online, free of charge, on its dedicated web page at <http://appipsychotherapy.com/publications/>, along with a copyright clause.
- Lacunae's style sheet, which uses the American Psychological Association (APA) style, is available in full on the APPI Lacunae webpage.
